

LIABILITY OF RAILROADS TO EMPLOYEES

Act 104 of 1909

AN ACT to prescribe the liability of common carrier railroad companies to their employees.

History: 1909, Act 104, Eff. Sept. 1, 1909

The People of the State of Michigan enact:

419.51 Railroads; liability to employees or personal representative for negligence.

Sec. 1.

Every common carrier railroad company in this state shall be liable to any of its employees, or, in case of his or her death, to his or her personal representative for the benefit of his or her spouse and children, if any; if none, then for his or her parents; if none, then for his or her next of kin, for all damages which may result from the negligence of the railroad company or from the negligence of any of its officers, agents, or employees, or by reason of any defect or insufficiency due to the negligence of the common carrier railroad company in its cars, engines, appliances, machinery, track, road bed, works, boats, wharves, coal docks, or other equipment.

419.52 Contributory negligence; degree, effect, assumption of risk.

Sec. 2.

In all actions hereafter brought against any such common carrier railroad company under or by virtue of any of the provisions of this act to recover damages for personal injury to an employee, or where such injuries have resulted in his death, the fact that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence shall not bar a recovery: Provided, That the negligence of such employee was of a lesser degree than the negligence of such company, its officers, agents or employees: Provided further, That no such employee who may be injured or killed shall be held to have been guilty of contributory negligence in any case where the violation by such common carrier railroad company of any statute enacted for the safety of employees contributed to the injury of such employee, and such employee shall not be held to have assumed the risk of his employment in any case where the violation by such common carrier of any statute enacted for the safety of employees contributed to the injury or death of such employee.
